The USA needed only 13 first-half minutes to take the lead after Miller nodded back across goal from a corner and Jack McBean headed in. Ricardo Rocha pulled one back for Honduras before Magennis converted his first international strike. Chris Wondolowski scored twice for the USA while McBean once. McBean's goal was his first for the US in eight years and followed a flurry of successful penalty conversions as the hosts took the lead after the USA's opener. It was a match that was always likely to be low-scoring with the US boasting a number of experienced and in-form forwards - among them the veteran Brian McBride and the exciting McBean. McBride was named in the starting XI but was forced off after 18 minutes with a groin injury. Miller, 28, skippered the side with veteran striker Landon Donovan on the bench. Wondolowski netted a first-half penalty before Miller struck for the USA's third. Fellow former Tottenham striker Michael Bradley was also among the USA's substitutes with the Galaxy man coming on for the final 14 minutes. Seattle Sounders striker Kenny Miller scored for the USA Honduras dominated the opening quarter of an hour, but it was the US who sought out chances and took them. After Miller had nodded the ball back across goal, McBean rose to head in from a corner which forced Oscar Ramirez into an offside reaction. Darlington Nagbe nearly broke the deadlock when he squandered the ball in the area, but Jermaine Jones failed to hit the target as he unleashed an effort from the edge of the area. The USA continued to take chances, Fabian Johnson forcing a good save from Ramirez as he beat the retreating goalkeeper. Johnson missed out on a second goal as he struck the foot of the post with a shot from just inside the area, but it was a wild one and took a deflection on its way through. Wondolowski scored from the spot early in the second period but the game was back in the balance after Rocha headed home from a corner

Laundry treating appliances, such as clothes washers, clothes dryers, refreshers, and non-aqueous systems, may have a configuration based on a rotating drum that defines a treating chamber in which laundry items are placed for treating. The laundry treating appliance may have a controller that manages various aspects of the operation of the laundry treating appliance, such as the operation of various components in the appliance, the water level in the treating chamber, the operation of the apparatus to remove wrinkles from the laundry items, the amount of detergent to be added to the treating chamber, the addition of spin-drying of the laundry items after they exit the treating chamber, and the like. The controller may execute one or more deterministic or non-deterministic algorithms to operate the laundry treating appliance.A heterogenous group of antineuronal antibodies: characterization of 35 patients with other neurological diseases and assessment of a large series of sera. We describe 35 patients with other neurological diseases displaying antibodies (Ab) directed against a group of neural antigens (LANA), characterized by the presence of four major bands of 60, 30, 16, and 12 kDa. The recognition of the same Ab against the 60 kDa antigen and the 16 kDa antigen is mainly restricted to patients with chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy (CIDP), and the sera of some patients display reactivity to the 12 kDa antigen. In addition, the recognition of the LANA group Ab could be either homogeneous or heterogeneous, i.e., different sera could react with different antigens. Forty-four other patients with neurological diseases were also tested for LANA Ab; they were negative. The LANA Ab were not associated with the presence of other neurological diseases or with the presence of neuromuscular Ab. We conclude that the LANA group Ab are heterogeneous Ab directed against neurofilament protein.Characteristics of underlying diseases of patients with hypogonadism: effect of age.
